

Academic Honesty: Members of the class are expected to maintain high standards of integrity. The VSU Biology Department Statement on Plagiarism clarifies common types of academic misconduct. Dishonesty will not be tolerated; evidence of cheating will result in no credit for the assignment or depending on the case, a grade of F for the course and letter of concern documenting the problem to the College of Education. Please see end of syllabus for clarification.

Special Services: Students requiring classroom accommodations or modifications because of a documented disability should discuss this need at the beginning of the semester. Students not registered with the Special Services Program should contact the Special Services Office, Nevins Hall 1115, 245-2498.

Family Educational Rights & Privacy Act: Grades cannot be posted by Name, Social Security N

Assessment of Learning

Class Participation and Attendance : Since more than half of this course involves active experiences, it is not possible to "make-up" missed material; therefore, attendance is mandatory . Absences need to be university approved and will require documentation substantiating the absence. It is the responsibility of the student to obtain missed material from one of their classmates. During lab you will be working in groups or with a partner most of the time. To deduce your class participation, the other members of your group will be asked to evaluate your participation and effort and will form the basis of your participation grade.

Anyone who misses more than 20% of the class sessions will receive a failing grade for the course. Since attendance during
