- it must be in review format (like a term paper) and should not have methods, results or discussion sections since this is not your work; see other review articles as a guide
- it must be thorough and complete, double-spaced, 12 pt font
- the length of the paper and the number of references is dependent on the topic; however papers significantly less than 2000 words based on fewer than 6 references will be automatically deemed unsatisfactory
- references must include at least 5 research articles
